OUR VALUES

Across the Koch companies, we share a culture rooted firmly in our Principle Based

Principle-driven, we live our values daily

Hold safety and quality to the highest standards

Work together to fulfill our shared purpose

Promote from within and offer non-traditional career paths

As a global contract development and manufacturing organization (CDMO), we work closely with the world's biggest medical technology, pharmaceutical and in vitro diagnostics companies to benefit people around the globe.

TAP INTO A GLOBAL NETWORK

Our 6,500+ team members are based in 30 global locations and have access to a world of opportunity for professional growth.

Molex, an $8B global electronics brand, is owned by Koch, one of the largest privately held companies in the world with 120,000 employees in approximately 50 countries.

With numerous educational and apprenticeship opportunities, we'll help you create your own path to success.

PAY IT FORWARD

Each of our locations actively serve our local communities where our employees live and work. Find out how our employees participate in volunteer experiences, host onsite educational events and attend community gatherings.
